

BRIAN AND ZENA - WHEN VOLUNTEERING LED TO LOVE!

What happened?

Meet Brian and Zena, volunteers at Imperial War Museum North. Zena joined the museum in 2006 and Brian joined a year later. The programme they took part in aimed to attract people from the local community who wanted to make new friends, learn new skills, increase their knowledge and get involved with the museum.

They volunteered each week, love blossomed a few years later and in July 2014 the team at IWM North were delighted when they tied the knot!

Congratulations to Zena and Brian who will be celebrating their ninth year of married life this summer.

Zena said:

bloomed
under the Harrier Jump Jet and we’ve been at war ever since!”
